1. Regular long-distance road transports of goods are now being operated by Yushtrans, the Soviet transport company, between Vienna, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia, and Romania. There is also a special road transport service through Czechoslovakia into the Russian Zone of Germany. In order to show up this latter service advantageously to the Austrians, Yushtrans will insure the transports en route against robbery. In certain cases where valuable goods are concerned, a Russian military escort will be provided.
2. With regard to freight rates the company is prepared to compete with private enterprises.
